In clinical practice, we educate and create more opportunities and surgical fields for our TSVS members. We hold the certificate workshop and examination, seminars and forum every year to enhance the domestic professional expertise in our field, introduce the state-of-the-art knowledge and practices, and exchange ideas among members.

In academic, our members also have pretty good and lots of SCI papers reported in this decade. We actively engage in research and participate the international

In this Endo Era: to be the best surgeons, our society must let our members know what are the differences between us and cardiologists. We have lots of weapons that they don't have, such as open surgery techniques, etc. And we can weight what is the best strategy for patient's treatment, and we still have the ability to use them. We try to do our efforts to let our TSVS members restore the surgeons' enthusiasm and abilities to re-think the possibility of open surgery strategy.

For the fundamental aspect of surgical abilities. The TSVS invites Germany and Japanese speakers, and many experience vascular specialists to held the cadaver workshops for distal bypass and aorta surgery in Hualian Tzu-Chi Simulator Center each year since 2020.
